SANTOS "SANDY" ALOMAR

Alomar started playing pro baseball at the age of 17 in the Midwest league in 1961 and the very next season he was named Player of the Year in the Pioneer league. Sandy also sparkled in 1963, when he was named to the Texas league All-star team. This speedy, fancy fielding infielder is a switch-hitter.

LUIS APARICIO

One of the most brilliant defensive shortstops in baseball history, Aparicio has the quickness, range and arm of an all-time great. The Venezuelan Flash is the greatest friend a pitcher ever had. He has tied the big league record for most consecutive years leading the league in fielding (8), holds the major league record for most consecutive years leading league in stolen bases (9) and has received the Gold Glove award as outstanding American League shortstop eight years. Looie and his magic glove made The Sporting News American League All-Star team in 1963, 1966 and 1968, and he was American League Rookie of the Year in 1956.

KEN BERRY

An excellent defensive outfielder, Berry earned the nickname of "The Bandit" because he robbed opposing batters of so many hits while he was making his way to the majors. Ever since he became a White Sox regular in 1965, Berry has played in at least 147 games a year. In 1965 Berry led American league outfielders in putouts with 331.

CHARLES BRADFORD

An excellent outfielder, Bradford has real good speed and he also has the most powerful arm on the White Sox club. A White Sox pitching star of the 1920's, Hollis Thurston, signed Bradford in 1962. "Buddy" was a three sport star at San Fernando (Cal) High School. He has good power as evidenced by his 17 home runs at Indianapolis in 108 games in 1967.

FRANCISCO CARLOS

Carlos spent almost seven years in the minors before coming up late in the 1967 season to help the White Sox in a bid that almost won the pennant. A graduate of Pomona Catholic High School in 1958, Carlos attended Citrus Junior College and Colorado State College. Former White Sox pitcher Hollis Thurston signed him in 1961.

ROBERT CHRISTIAN

Started career in Yankee system but was drafted as first-year player by Detroit after 1964 season. He played infield through 1966, then was converted to outfield in 1967 and made Southern League All-star team. Christian had a 14-game hitting streak at Toledo in 1968 and was considered one of the International League's most feared batsmen

RON HANSEN

Hansen is in his second tour of duty with the White Sox as he played shortstop for Chicago from 1963 thru 1967, then was traded to Washington. But Ron returned to the White Sox in mid-1968, after he had made an unassisted triple play for the Senators. On Aug. 29, 1965, Hansen established a major league record for most chances accepted by a shortstop in a double header (28). He was American League Rookie of the Year in 1960.

JOEL HORLEN

In his first year in pro ball (1959) Horlen won only one game while losing nine; yet, eight years later, he won 19 games while losing 7 as a big leaguer, led the American League in ERA and hurled a no-hit game. Over the last five years Horlen's ERA has never been higher than 2.88, best record of any American League starter for that period. Horlen was on a national championship team when he was a Pony Leaguer . . . he was a member of the Oklahoma State University team that won the NCAA World Series. Horlen was a member of the American League All-Star squad in 1967.

THOMAS JOHN

John was Chicago's most consistent winner in 1968 until he was sidelined by an injury last August that put him on the shelf for the rest of the season. He won his first 7 games in 1968 and was a member of the American League All-Star squad. John was graduated from Gerstmeyer High School (Terre Haute, Ind.) in 1961 and signed that year with the Cleveland organization. He tied for the American League lead in shutouts in 1966 with five and again in 1967, this time with six.

DUANE JOSEPHSON

One of the top catchers in the American League, Josephson came from State College of Iowa, where he was an all-conference baseball and basketball star. "Josie" broke in pro baseball in 1964, was named the All-Star catcher of the Southern League in 1965 and was the Pacific Coast League All-Star catcher in 1966. He was signed by Sox scout Bill Kimball, and after brief trials in 1965 and 1966 he became a Sox regular in 1967.

CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS: A pitching champion (ERA) must pitch 162 or more innings.

A batting champion must have at least 502 plate appearances; however, if he lacks that total he can still qualify if by adding enough plate appearances to reach that figure his average would still be the highest.

DAN LAZAR

Johnny Mostil, great White Sox defensive outfielder in the 1920's, signed Lazar in 1965. Lazar was a star athlete at Griffith (Ind.) High and Indiana State University (Terre Haute). Danny made the Carolina League All-Star team in 1966.

BOB LOCKER

Even since he joined the White Sox pitching staff in 1965, Locker has been one of the top relief pitchers in the American League. Signed by Scout Bill Kimball June 14, 1960, Locker was a starting pitcher for three seasons in the minors but when he came up to the Sox in 1965, Manager Al Lopez promptly put the sinker ball specialist in the bullpen. Locker got into 51 games in relief in his rookie year and he has been a workhorse as a reliever ever since.

PLAYER LIMITS: 25 players from opening day thru August 31 . . . 40 players from September 1 thru end of season.

Throughout the year a major league club may carry 40 men on its "under control" list. . . . Players in military service do not count against the "under control" list while on active duty. . . . Upon separation from the service a player will be reinstated to his club's normal player limits after he has completed a 15 day trial period or has participated in a championship game, whichever comes first.

GARY PETERS

A product of the White Sox farm system, Peters was named as the American League Rookie of the Year when he won 19 games while losing only 8 in 1963. The next season Peters won 20 games while dropping only 8 to establish himself as one of the game's top southpaws. After a 16-victory season in 1967, injuries resulted in Peters winning only 4 games last year. Twice in his big league career Peters has fanned more than 200 batters in a season, making him the only White Sox pitcher in history plus Big Ed Walsh to turn the trick. He is one of the game's best hitting pitchers.

PETE WARD

In his rookie year with the White Sox (1963) Ward's 177 hits was the second highest total in the American League. After two fine seasons with Chicago, Ward has been slowed down by injuries the next four years but he still has hammered out 91 home runs in a Sox uniform to move into third place on the all-time White Sox home run list. Ward spent five seasons in the Baltimore organization before coming to Chicago.

WALTER A. WILLIAMS

Chunky Walter Williams creates excitement with his tremendous hustle and enthusiasm. In 1966 he won the Pacific Coast league batting title when he hit .330 for Tulsa. Williams started in the Houston organization after starring in athletics at Galileo High school in San Francisco.

NEW RULE ON "SAVES"

The new rule on "saves" by pitchers is as follows: "Credit a save to a relief pitcher who enters the game with his team in the lead if he holds the lead the remainder of the game, provided he is not credited with the victory. A relief pitcher cannot be credited with a save if he does not finish the game, unless he is removed for a pinch-hitter or runner. When more than one relief pitcher qualifies for a save under the provisions of this rule, credit the save to the relief pitcher judged by the scorer to have been the most effective. Only one save can be credited in one game."

WILBUR WOOD

Knuckleballer Wilbur Wood was brilliant in a losing cause for the 1968 White Sox. The husky southpaw set a new major league record by making 88 mound appearances, he won 13 games, saved 13 more, won five games himself over Minnesota's power-laden Twins, compiled a remarkable 1.87 earned run average, and was involved in five winning 1 to 0 games. A graduate of Belmont (Mass.) High school in 1960, he started in the Boston Red Sox system, then went to Pittsburgh in 1964 before eventually coming to Chicago. Although he is primarily a reliever, Woodie can take his turn as a starter too, as evidenced by his pitching 15 complete games in the International league, with eight shutouts, in 1966.

BILLY WYNNE

Lanky Billy Wynne broke into pro baseball in 1965 with Marion of the Appalachian league. He worked his way up the New York Mets' system, appearing in half a dozen games for them in 1967, before coming to the White Sox in a five player deal. Wynne was graduated from Pfeiffer College in Misenheomer, N.C.
